A CONNUBIAL QUARREL.

Two English Birds That Acted in a Magically Human Way.

In the yard of a Scranton bird student a pair of English sparrows began a few weeks ago to get ready to go house-keeping. They took up their abode in a little box, that was fastened to the top of a post. Other sparrows undertook to occupy the box, but the pugnacious birds soon drove them away, and from that time on the plucky pair fixed up their household and got every thing in readiness to raise a family without being disturbed by their apparently envious neighbors.

The industrious birds were nearly ready to settle down to a quiet married life, as accident happened that caused a row between the pair. One day before the female had begun to sit, her husband fluttered away and was gone a good deal longer than usual. During his absence the female hopped herself by flying from the nest to the yard and back, adding liveliness to her household and sprucing things up inside of the box. By and by Mr. Sparrow returned, but he didn't look as neat and natty as he did when he sailed away, in some way he had lost all of his tail feathers while he was gone, and his wife wouldn't have anything to do with him or let him enter the house. He seemed to try to explain matters to her, but she wouldn't listen to him at all, scolded at him, spitefully, and fought him whenever he attempted to approach her.

The student, kind and the hatched bird was a right-hand husband by a peculiar mark on his head, and he watched the result of the family trouble with deep interest. For two days the unhappy husband coaxed and begged his wife to treat him as she had formerly done, but his pleadings made her all the more determined to get rid of him for good. At last one of the hatched sparrow disappeared, and has never been seen around there since. The female continued to occupy the box, and inside of three days she got another husband, set up housekeeping anew, and in due time hatched on a nest full of little ones.—E. Y. Sun.

PERUVIAN COURTSHIP.

It is Exceedingly Proper in Every Respect that Very Expert.

Peruvian young ladies are at fourteen, and like their sisters in the United States, they look with favorable eyes upon a man who has wealth.

If a young man sees a girl who pleases him, he haunts the street where she lives, and if he finds her on the balcony, where she spends half her time, he raises his hat and bows to her.

If she smiles in return, he sees that his advances are accepted and then he applies to her father for an introduction. Even if the father consents not, he will pay a liberal salary or allow a large commission. For full particulars address

Voltaic Belt Co.,
No. 210 Marshall, Mich.

Fred—What did you and your girl have a falling out over?

Ned—She wanted her father to stand up with us.

Fred—Did you object?

Ned—Yes. You see, I had already stood him up so many times; I was afraid, he wouldn't have it.—Plunder.

DO NOT SUFFER ANY LONGER.

Knowing that a cough can be checked in a day, and the first stages of consumption broken in a week, we hereby guarantee Dr. Acker's English Cough Remedy, and will refund the money to all who buy, take it as per directions, and do not find our statement correct.

H. B. GARNER, Druggist.

CHARLES—How do you like your new boarding-house, Dick?

Dick—First-rate!

Charlie—Is the board high?

Dick—No, but the rooms are!

Mother, don't let your children suffer with ill health. Try Dr. Bull's Worm Destroyer—dainty candy lozenges. It will do them no harm and may be just the remedy they need.

—SOME OLD STORIES.

Years That Were Current in France Nearly Two Centuries Ago.

—Not so long ago there was a now road made for the loft of a certain country church, and the old road was stored away in the loft of the parsonage. The person feeling a desire toward a goose, had a fine one fattened, killed, skinned, and spitted, and finally put down to roast. He was a fugal man, and to save firewood lugged out the old crutch and put it on the fire as it fell his conscience forbidding him to break it up. This done, he set off to church, leaving his little nephew to roast the bird, and to turn the spit. In course of time the croissants of the roof was burned through, and the figure fell down, face foremost, on the goose. The bird had fled away in terror, and ran into the church, calling out: "Uncle, uncle, that man you put on the fire is eating our goose!"—Philadelphia Times.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

TON W. T. LILLIS, of Daviess County, is a Democratic candidate for re-election to Congress, subject to the action of the district primary election Sept. 27.

OPPOSED TO THIRD PARTIES.

"I am unalterably opposed to any third party movement," was Dr.
Clardy's reply to the KENTUCKIAN's interrogation concerning his relationship to the Wheeler's Alliance.

I am a Democrat. The aims of Democracy and Wheelerism are in a great measure identical. Both have in view the relief of the people, including the farming and laboring classes, by reducing taxes upon necessaries. Tariff reform is one of the demands of all farmers' organizations and this relief can only come by cooperation with the party opposed to protecting favored classes and monopolies."

Then you would not lend yourself to any movement outside of your party?

"Most assuredly not. I do not know that I shall become a candidate for Governor or for any other office, but if I do it will be as a Democrat, subject to party action. I would of course expect support from the farmers, but as a matter of fact the farmers are the bone and sinew of the Democratic party in Kentucky and they can by combining elect their representatives without disrupting party organization."

"Furthermore the experience of the past shows that there can be but two rival parties in this country. Third parties can never succeed except at the expense of one of the old parties and in this case the very principles for which the Alliance contends are already embodied in the Democratic party. It would be indeed foolish for Democrats to leave their party under such circumstances as this."

The complete novel in Lippincott's Magazine for September is metamorpho-sized by Lorraine Pearson Woods, author of that remarkable book, "Metzrott Shoemaker." Miss Woods, like Mr. Edward Bellamy, has won sudden and wide fame by the advocacy of certain forms of socialism, and this her latest novel, is directed against the "Sweating System," a system which has been exciting a great deal of antagonism both in America and England, and which stands greatly in need of reform. The story is entitled "The Mark of the Beast," and has that power about it which springs from an earnest purpose, while it is crowded with strong scenes and dramatic situations. It is a story that everybody will want to read. A sketch of Miss Woods, by Hester Crawford Dorsey, appears in the body of the magazine.

In accordance with the act passed by the last Legislature to promote the interests of agriculture, horticulture and statistics in Kentucky, Governor Bryan has appointed the following advisory board: Col. Thomas W.
Scott, of Franklin; Dr. J. D. Clardy, of Christian; Hon. T. G. Gardner, of Carlisle, and Prof. M. A. Scoville, chemist of the A. M. College, at Lexington.
The board will meet at least four times a year. The members receive no compensation, except their actual expenses.

Capt. Stone, of the First district, has followed the example of Senator Carlisle and come out against the Sub-Treasury scheme advocated by some of the Wheelers. This very foolish proposition now has but few friends amongst thinking men and Capt. Stone being a Wheeler himself is very apt to receive the endorsement of the Wheelers of his district.

The House of Representatives got into a stormy row Tuesday over the attempt of the Republicans to pass the Hog Land Bill by revolutionary methods. It is rather strange that some of the Southern members did not think to pour a little cotton seed oil on the troubled waters.

Congressman Ellis is speaking in Henderson and Webster counties this week, but has not appointments for this week only, as he does not know how soon he may be called back to Washington. His opponent, Mr. Givens, was invited to meet him at all appointments.

Rodney Haggard, of Clark, failing to get the instructions from his own county, has withdrawn from the Congressional race in the Tenth district.
Brooks, of Mt. Sterling, now looks like the winner in the convention to be held at Jackson next week.

Mayor C. D. Jacob, of Louisville, who left home for San Francisco May 15, has completed his trip around the world and returned home this week.
He visited Japan, China, Egypt, Europe and England.

Hon. Lewis F. Watson, of Pennsylvania, died very suddenly in Washington Sunday, making the eighth member of the present Congress who has died within less than two years.

MR. PROWSE'S ANSWER.

Mr. John P. Prowse filed his response to the notice of contest from Mr. Wm. Cowan, in the County Clerkship matter, on the 27th. The paper is very lengthy and is a general denial of all of the propositions laid down in Cowan's petition.

He questions the legality of the Oak Grove vote upon the ground that the officers were not sworn and asks that the precinct be thrown out.

He charge that large numbers of persons were prevented from voting for him and forced to vote for Cowan by threats, intimidation and undue influence at Pembroke, Barker's Mill, Oak Grove, Garrettsburg, Lafayette and Bennettstown and very indis-creetly charge that Cowan's friends practiced bribery and corruption. He then proceeds to claim the earth and the hillness thereof and estimates his majority of the "legal voters" at something over 400, instead of five votes as certified.

He attacks votes cast for Cowan upon nine counts as follows: Not registered 51, fraudulently registered July 28th 31, wrongfully recorded 73, not naturalized 29, not in district long enough or in wrong district 172, failing to produce certificates 12, minors 17, voted after 5 p. m. 2, recorded but didn't vote 1.

This list was intended to be very formidable, but a very small per cent of illegal votes will be found amongst them. The non-registered voters are classed on account of errors in spelling, or in recording initials. For instance W. S. Witty voted as Shipp-Witty and his name appears as not registered. The list of fraudulent registrations embraces such voters as J. M. Glass, who was sick in bed in June.

The names of 73 colored men are given who voted the Democratic ticket, who Mr. Prowse claims were recorded wrong. This shows there can be no doubt even in dry legal documents.
The unnaturalized class includes foreign born Democrats taken at random, who have been naturalized for years. The "out of district" class includes every Democrat who voted on permits and his lawyers evidently intend to raise this new question. This will, however, cut both ways. The other claims are simply quibbles and amount to nothing, the votes of two Democrats at the Court House being challenged because the officers did not vote till the clock struck 7. Mr.
Prowse very wisely concludes not to tackle the constitutionality of the Registration law.

Some voters are in two or more of the nine classes and the introduction of the names of so many legal voters into the response indicates that delay is to be the policy of Prowse's attorneys.

MATRIMONIAL.

LIPSCOMB-DADE.

Mr. John F. Lipscomb and Miss Virginia S. Dade were married at the Ninth Street Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, Dr. W. L. Nourse officiating.

The church was handsomely decorated for the happy occasion, and the stand was spanned by a tall arch of evergreens and flowers. From the center of this was suspended a floral bush, underneath which the bridal couple plighted their mutual vows.
At 8:30 o'clock promptly the happy couple arrived and entered the west aisle, to the sweet strains of the wedding march played by Mrs.
Dr. J. M. Dennis. They were preceded by the four ushers, Messrs. Jonett Henry, Jas. Green, Gabe Campbell and John P. Burnett, who took their positions on either side of the altar. The bride and groom gracefully ascended the steps and passed facing the audience, and in a few appropriate words Dr. Nourse performed the ceremony that linked their destinies for all time to come.

The officiating clergyman then congratulated them and they retired from the church by the east aisle, the spectators remaining seated until the bridal party had departed.

Immediately after the wedding a reception was tendered them at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J.
B. Dade, which was attended by only the relatives and intimate friends of the wedded couple. On Wednesday evening a similar entertainment was given them at Mr. Randolph Dade's, in the Julien vicinity.

Mr. Lipscomb has for some years filled a responsible position in Metz' dry goods store. He is a young man of the best character and excellent attainments and is highly esteemed by all who know him.

His bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. J. B. Dade and is noted for her beauty, amiability and many endearing traits.

The KENTUCKIAN wishes for the young couple a full realization of their fondest hopes of happiness, complete and enduring.

Mr. John W. Twyman, of this city, was married yesterday to Miss Emma Fox, of Arlington, and returned with his bride on the 5 o'clock train. Mr.
Twyman is a salesman in Merritt's grocery and has many friends who will extend congratulations.

MARRIAGE LICENSE.

Jno. F. Lipscomb to Virginia Stuart Dade.

L. D. Rice to Martha A. Jordan.

James Wilson to Martha Minford, James Mercer to Kate Campbell.

During the epidemic of flux in this country last summer, I had hard work to keep a supply of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy on hand. People often came ten or twelve miles in the night to get a bottle of it. I have been selling patent medicine for the last ten years and find that it gives better satisfaction in cases of diarrhoea and flux, than any other medicine I have ever handled.

J. H. BENJAMIN, Druggist, Golconda, Pope Co., Ill. Over five hundred bottles of this Remedy have been sold in that county during the epidemic. It was a perfect success and was the only remedy that did cure the worst cases.
Dozens of persons there will certify that it saved their lives. In four other epidemics of bowel complaint this Remedy has been equally successful.

Longmoor's Majorit.

Returns have been received at the office of the Secretary of State from 112 counties, giving Longmoor 155-450; Tinsley, 101-104; Mrs. Henry, 42-37. Longmoor's Majorit over Tinsley, 54-105. The counties yet to report are Bullitt, Campbell, Elliott, Estill, Jackson, Monroe and Perry.
These counties in 1888 gave Cleveland 7,445 and Harrison 8,942, and Fish 11,070 votes. Estimating the same majority for Tinsley, Longmoor's will be 52,518.
In 1888 the total vote stood: Cleveland 183,800, Harrison 155,600, Fisk 5,225, total vote 344,781. This year the vote will be approximately as follows: Longmoor 102,895, Tinsley 110,176, Henry 4,407, total vote 277,478. Decreased 67,903, of which 21,005 is Dom-

TOOK FRENCH LEAVE.

Four Prisoners Escape From the Work House.

The security of the new work house was put to the test a few nights ago and the result was that four convicts made their escape. They were Bob McRae, Jim Payne and Sam Hatcher, concealed deadly weapons, and Lewis Payne, breach of the peace.

The manner by which the delivery was accomplished is thus described by Mr. Vaughan, the keeper:

"They made their escape by prizing a bar from the east window, using a hot flat and a wooden brace four feet long that extended from the top of the cell to the roof and was too-nailed with eight-penny nails. These were the only tools required to spring the bars, as they are only 3 of an inch and are set in a wooden sill about one inch deep. All work tools are put out of reach at night, being kept in the coal house, in the absence of a tool house. The prisoners, if they had needed other instruments, could have used table legs, or bench legs from the hall as nothing is securely nailed, and to show the insecurity of the window into which the bars are set, a party took the same piece that was used in prizing out the bar, and with two moderate blows succeeded in removing the whole sill an inch from its original position, and there is no doubt that they can be knocked entirely out of position with but little labor. Besides should the prisoners not have free access to the work room and be confined to their cells, there would be but little trouble to come through the roof, as the cells are covered with 1x6 inch planks nailed with one-eighth nail."

With such a state of insecurity existing, it is a wonder that prisoners have not escaped before this. The proper authorities should take the necessary steps at once to make this prison thoroughly secure, as it is very important that further escapes be prevented in the future. The keeper can not be blamed for the escape of convicts, unless he be provided with facilities for securing them.

Mr. Vaughan has offered a reward for the capture of the escaped prisoners, who are still at large.

CREAM OF NEWS.

Sent Back to the Work House.

Henry Weston, col., who was sent to the work house in October of last year, for 12 months for petit larceny, was paroled about a month ago on account of good behavior. Last Monday he was re-arrested, tried for disorderly and strange conduct, and was returned to the work house to serve out the two months which had been deducted from the original sentence.

Revenue Assignments.

The Collector of Internal Revenue made the regular 10-day assignments Wednesday. A good many of the Christian county contingent are left out, the following being those fortunate enough to get in out of the wet: T. H. Major to J. W. M. Field, No. 3; A. Moore to S. M. Dist. Co., No. 17; J. E. Meacham to Rich Grain Dist. Co., No. 6, withdrawals.

Jno. W. Postell, col., to C. L. Applegate & Co., No. 7.

J. P. Clark to E. W. Worsham & Co., No. 50.

Will Test the Law.

Mr. E. F. Morris, L. & N. watchman at the 7th street crossing, ejected some colored women from the waiting room set apart for white people, Sunday night, and in doing so it became necessary to draw his pistol. A warrant was sworn out for his arrest, charging him with carrying a concealed deadly weapon without authority. Mr. Morris is a regularly employed watchman, but it is claimed by the parties who swore out the warrant that he has never been sworn in as a policeman and is therefore amenable to the law for his act. The trial comes up to-day.

A Uniform Division.

The long-taught-of Uniform Rank of Evergreen Lodge, K. of P., was instituted on the night of the 26th inst., with 30 members. The Division will be known by the same name as the present Lodge—Evergreen. The following corps of officers were elected and installed:

Captain, H. H. Abernathy.

First Lieut., L. F. Atkinson.

Second Lieut., Jno. P. Campbell.

Recorder, Bailey Waller.

The uniforms will be received by Prof. 12 and the Division is now drilling every night, preparing to attend the Grand Lodge meeting at Bowling Green Sept. 16.

A Big Land Sale.

A big land sale was consummated Tuesday by which the Medley estate on the Clarksville pike, consisting of 415 acres, passes into the hands of Mr. C. T. Mason, who owned 1,000 acres adjoining it. This gives Mr. Mason perhaps the finest tract of land in Southern or Western Kentucky and we doubt if there are many better farms of 1,400 acres anywhere in the State. The price paid for the Medley place, which was owned by Mr. Jas. M. Medley and sisters, was about $26,000 or $26,50 per acre. One-half of this was paid in cash and the other half in the fine farm in South Christian, known as the Maj. Tandy place, consisting of 382 acres, which was valued at a little over $34 an acre.

More About the Books.

The rotteness in the sheriff's books of 1886, which books the committee to investigate the raising of the tax lists have just finished examining, far surpasses all expectations. In 1885 the raises amounted to only $143 and it was supposed that $500 would cover the next year, but the examination shows that more than 1,900 lists were changed, the raises amounting to $1,282. With such a record as this in 1886, there is no telling what will be developed in the books of 1887 and 1888, in which years it is conceded most of the raising on a large scale was done.

The County Court committee are nearly done their branch of the work and the State's figures have been increased for every year, the total increase aggregating several hundred dollars. The total shortage for eight years now brought to light is something over $15,000, including penalties, with the individual raises for 1887 and 1888 to be added, which may bring it up to $20,000.

A Change of Constables.

Andrew J. Hord, the colored constable in Hopkinsville No. 1, has been compelled to give up his office on account of his inability to give bond. He was first elected in 1886 and qualified June 1, 1887, and the unexpired term of his present term is a little over nine months. His bondsmen for 1889 were A. H. Anderson, W. R. Long, Jno. P. Prowse, C. P. Nolen and Shelly Warfield, col. The bond is an unlimited one and his bondsmen for some reason notified Hord that they would not stand for him any longer and, as he could find no other responsible parties to help him out, his office was declared vacant on the 26th and Judge Winfrey promptly appointed Geo. Bradley, who was Hord's opponent when he ran for the office. Mr. Bradley qualified at once with R. H. Holland and others as his bondsmen. Hord was re-elected at the late election and will have an opportunity to qualify next June for a four years' term, provided he can give the bond. Perhaps, if the white Republicans happen to be in need of colored support at that time, he may be able to find some friends to help him out.

USEFUL AND SUGGESTIVE.

Lamp burners can be renovated by boiling them in strong soda water.

To remove tar from the hands, rub with the outside of a fresh lemon peel and wipe dry immediately.

The surest way to have clear jelly is to let the juice drain through a flannel bag without squeezing it.

A doctor at Louisville informs the French Academy of Medicine that he has discovered a cure for ergot. It is a very simple one—a teaspoonful of flour of macaroni in a tumbler of water. After three days of the treatment his patient recovers.

If you want a lively odor in your rooms, break off branches of the Norway spruce and arrange them in a large jug well filled with water. In a few days tender, pale green branches feather out, soft and cool to the touch, giving the delightful health-giving odor.

A loaf that was too stale for the table may be "freshened" by wrapping it in a clean cloth, and dipping it in boiling water for thirty seconds. Then remove the cloth and lake the loaf for ten minutes in a slow oven. Stale breakfast rolls may be treated the same way.

To keep the bright green color of summer cabbage and some other vegetables, boil fast in plenty of water in which the leaves of the plant have been boiled, and the stems of ten peacock cover until the water boils and then take off the lid. If the steam is shut in the cabbage will be yellow and unsightly.

In choosing your wall paper you should be careful before finally deciding on it to see how it looks under gas or lamp light, as the color and general appearance of most of this pattern change very greatly under artificial light. A good plan is to select three or four patterns, put them upon the walls of the room, and examine their general effect carefully both by day and night.

Butter Sponge Cake.—One-half of a cupful of butter, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, one and three-quarters cupfuls of flour, one-half cupful of milk and three eggs (beaten separately).
A pinch of salt, a dash of baking-powder flour with vanilla and lemon, most of the former as lemon flavoring is much stronger than vanilla. It makes a good size loaf. Bake fully fifty minutes.

Good Housekeeping.—Lunchroom buns may be made as follows: "To one cup of sifted flour add a little salt, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter and one cup of sugar. Dissolve a yeast cake in a little warm milk, then add enough more warm milk to make a soft dough. Set to rise. When light mix in a heaping cup of stoned raisins, and flavor with ground cinnamon.
Make into buns, set to rise again, and when light bake in a quick oven. Dampen the tops while hot, and sift over them a little powdered sugar."

The Death Plant.—
Billin' insects and small birds.
A native of Java, has been recently reported here by Mrs. Madison Black.
The specimen, which is the only living one that has ever been brought to this country, was sent Mrs. Black by her brother, Jerome Hendrieckson, who went out as a missionary to the island. The tall majah is found only in the volcanic districts of Java and Sumatra, and then but rarely. It grows from two to three and a half feet in height, with long, slender stems armed with thorns nearly an inch long, and covered with broad, satiny-smooth leaves of a heart shape, and a delicate emerald on one side, and blood red, streaked with cream, on the other.

The flowers of the death plant are large, yellow-white and come out below about the size and depth of a large coffee cup, and having the rim guarded by fine, briar-like thorns. The peculiarity of the plant lies in those flowers which, beautiful as they are, die almost continually so powerful as to overcome them. Ifhaled any length of time, it will kill him a fool."—Atlantic Globe.
